

Invitation to the CONGRESS "SMART(E) Urban Mobility"

to mark the completion of the EU project CEMOBIL as part of the Autumn Fair and the exhibition "Sustainability Days" on 16 September (8.30-17.30 plus evening reception) and on 17 September 2015 (9.00-17.30)

in Klagenfurt on Lake Wörthersee, Messeplatz 1, Messe Centrum in Hall 5, 9021 Klagenfurt on Lake Wörthersee, AUSTRIA

Tomorrow's urban mobility will be smart(e):

sustainable - long-lasting multimodal - distances will be travelled using several means and modes of transport achievable - affordable for everyone

rapid - fast, without waiting time when changing transport modes touchable - simple to use and to book along the entire distance via smart phone

electric - electric or zero-emission vehicle drive systems

How far from this future scenario are we today, and how can we get there?

Prof. PaoloTumminelli, the design star of the e-mobility scene, will start with perspectives and dimensions of Smart Mobility. Best practice examples from European cities and regions, a life cycle assessment as well as technological and economic expertise will point us in the right direction. Findings compiled in the brand-new study "The New World of Transport" by Dr. Weert Canzler and national and EU strategies will provide further fuel for the journey into the future.

Lectures, discussions, a World Café, a site visit, CIVITAS@Work Event, test drives with e-vehicles, an exhibition shown in the context of the "Sustainability Days", a poster promenade, an evening reception and communicative breaks will provide the opportunity of addressing all these themes from different perspectives. The framework for this congress and its content is the LIFE+ / Climate Action Project CEMOBIL.

If these issues are of relevance to you as a person...

- working as a planner or in administration
- developing or managing projects
- wanting to be among the front runners in the transport business or in sales
- who creates regulations in public administration
- wanting to contribute as an interested citizen
- who is able to share practical experience
- who decides on public or private investments
- holding a political office
- doing research

...this specialist event will be a unique opportunity that you should not miss. Among experts from Austria and from abroad, you will be able to update your knowledge, gain new motivation, and create innovative solutions through the exchange of ideas.

In line with its theme, the congress will be organised in compliance with the criteria of the Austrian eco-label for "Green Meetings" (www.umweltzeichen.at).

The congress languages will be English and German.
